This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE.

A CATALOGUE of the Library of the Historical Society was prepared by the late Rev. TIMOTHY ALDEN, D. D., and published in 1813. At a later period, when considerable accessions had been made to the Library, Mr. DELAFIELD furnished a complete list of the books, which still exists in manuscript. It has lately been proposed to publish a new Catalogue, as soon as the resources of the society would permit, and there is reason to believe that this will be accomplished at no distant period. In the mean time, it seems desirable to afford the public some idea of the progress that has been made of late, in extending the collections of the society, and at the same time to exhibit the proofs, constantly accumulating, of the continued interest taken by generous and enlightened individuals, in promoting the objects of the institution. For this double purpose, the following enumeration of works added to the Library, by donation or otherwise, since the commencement of the year 1839, when the present Librarian came into office, is now published.

It will be found that an addition of more than a thousand volumes has been made within that time, exclusive of smaller tracts or pamphlets, and that nearly all of them are, more or less, intimately connected with the history of the western continent. Should the same ratio of increase continue for a few years, the Library, already highly respectable in the amount of its historical treasures, will surpass every other institution in our country, in the number and value of its manuscripts and printed authorities, in the department of American history. The Library of Harvard University, at Cambridge, (Massachusetts,) to which private munificence has contributed the rare and extensive collections of EBELING and WARDEN, is at present supposed to excel all others in this respect. Mr. WARDEN has since been employed in making a new collection of American books, with equal industry and success, for which his long residence in Europe has afforded him uncommon fa and Col. ASPINWALL, American Consul at London, is und to have occupied himself in a similar manner. Both of the tlemen offer their libraries for sale, and should means be t enrich our own with either of them, New-York might the of a library of American history worthy of the name, and ho

to the great commercial emporium of the New World.

In addition to the works enumerated in the following cat
several hundred volumes of Pamphlets have been arrang bound during the last two years, under the immediate dire
GEORGE GIBBS, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Bo Pamphlets. Nearly six hundred of the pamphlets were pr to the Society by FREDERIC DE PEYSTER, Esq., in 1837-
of which are of great interest and value.

In November, 1837, the society received from GOUVE
MORRIS WILKINS, Esq., a munificent donation, comprisi great body of the most distinguished authors in the various ments of Italian literature, of the finest editions, in the mos style of mechanical execution. A list of these books has b ded, although the date of their presentation is not within t scribed limits of this Catalogue.
